BULLETIN

CORNING, Iowa (AP) — Stung by a federal court restraining order, the National Farmers Organization announced today it will urge members to sell some dairy cows for slaughter to boost their milk holding action.

Oren Lee Staley, NFO president, announced from his headquarters here that some 60 assembly points will be set up in 25 states Monday where members can bring dairy cows for marketing.

He added most members are expected to sell only one or two cows, not slaughtering their entire herds.

The new twist in the 16-day-old milk holdout came as the NFO voiced determination to continue their efforts to gain a price increase of two cents a quart despite a federal court order issued Thursday barring any violence.

Progress in Try to Prevent News Strike

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Progress was reported today in efforts to prevent a strike in the newspaper industry here.

Optimism rose following a series of negotiations that continued past the midnight expiration of contracts between five of the city's major newspapers and 10 unions.

Theodore W. Kheel, chief mediator in the negotiations said at 3:10 a.m.: "There will obviously not be any strike (today) but the situation is still not settled." Officers of all 10 unions emerged from a meeting Thursday night and announced a settlement was possible.

Kheel made the no-strike statement as negotiations between representatives of the publishers and the deliverers union were recessed until tonight.

He said "good progress" had been made on some issues involving the deliverers.

Also, Kheel said, talks between the printers union and the publishers had produced "excellent progress on some of the matters discussed."

Kheel's greatest problems so far have involved the negotiations between the publishers

Soviet Bid Called Craft Maneuver

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet bid to supply generators for America's Grand Coulee Dam was termed today "another example of the crafty maneuvers of the Communists to outwit us" by Sen. Karl E. Mundt.

Reaction of other senators queried was less volatile, although most looked askance at the Soviet proposal.

But Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., appeared undismayed. "What's the matter with that?" he asked.

"I think that's going a little too far," said Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., while Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, confined his comments to "interesting, very interesting."

But Mundt, R-S.D., a major opponent of President Johnson's East-West "bridge-building" proposals — like increased trade and the U.S.-Soviet Consular Treaty — said the Soviet bid amounted to "a one-way bridge."

"If I were the president," Mundt told a newsmen, "I'd tell them we'd like to consider their bid, but not until they call off the dogs." Mundt unsuccessfully attempted to amend the Senate-passed consular treaty to make it inoperative until the Soviet Union ceased aid to North Vietnam.

The Department of the Interior confirmed Thursday that the Soviets had inquired about bidding on a $75-million contract to build six turbine generators at Grand Coulee Dam on 90 miles northwest of Spokane, Wash.

The department's Bureau of Reclamation handles such contracts. A spokesman said he knew of no decision on whether to issue the bids on a competitive or a negotiated basis.

Competitive bidding would be open to all. A negotiated bidding would be open only to selected companies.

Rides Herd on LBJ's Night Reading

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sometimes stays awake nights because of an old friend who has been keeping an eye on White House affairs from inside and out for 30-odd years.

On the outside, Robert E. Kintner has been reporter, columnist, Army intelligence officer and, in turn, the youngest president of both the American and National Broadcasting companies.

On the inside, he rounds out today a year on the President's staff. Probably no one around Johnson has known him better or longer, both on a professional and social basis, than Kintner, and he rides herd on the President's night reading — all sorts of memos and reports.

The Johnson-Kintner friendship began and flourished through two of Johnson's political tutors, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas.

At 58 and 57, Johnson and Kintner are contemporaries. Each had a capacity for climbing. After they met, Johnson made it from Congress to the White house by 1963. Kintner took even less time to get to the top in another field — from reporter in the Washington bureau of the New York Herald Tribune to president of ABC by 1950 and of NBC by 1958.

Now that the change has been made in jobs and pay, Kintner finds it less downright exciting than when he was what others called "the boy wonder" of television.

But at this stage of his career, he regards the government position as far more interesting. And he intends to stick with it as long as he has fun and enjoys it, because he feels the challenges and rewards compare favorably with those of heading a radio-TV network.

In the new assignment Kintner not only runs weekly meetings of the White House staff but also pulls together material and makes up the agenda for Cabinet meetings that are held every two weeks or so.

Kintner calls himself a con-

NATO Has Set Up in Belgium

BRUSSELS (AP) — Foreign troops once again are moving into Belgium as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military command settles down at an ancient military camp 30 miles south of Brussels after being kicked out of France.

Preceded by tons of desks, files, maps, telephones, typewriters and radio equipment, members of SHAPE — the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers Europe — began operations today in the village of Casteau. Wives, children and furniture are still arriving.

SHAPE is the first of three Atlantic alliance agencies moving to Belgium this year and bringing with them about 10,000 persons. The NATO council, the alliance's political arm, will come from Paris in September, and the military staff committee will come later from Washington.

SHAPE's new offices at Casteau, near Mons, were erected in less than six months. Belgium will try to build the NATO council's headquarters even faster.

The paper work piles up by day's end. Kintner and Juanita Roberts, Johnson's personal secretary, sort and screen. What can't wait until morning, Kintner sends over to the White House living quarters around 6 or 7 p.m. and the President sometimes gets around to disposing of it the last thing before the light flicks off in his bedroom.

Paint Tossed at Humphrey in Italy

By DAVID MAZZARELLA
ROME (AP) — Italian police maintained a tighter guard around U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today after opponents of the Vietnam war threw yellow paint at him.

The plastic container of paint missed Humphrey as he entered the Rome Opera House Thursday night for a performance of Verdi's "Ernani." Only a few drops stained his dark suit, but considerably more splattered his host, Angelo Carlucci, director of the opera.

Humphrey didn't appear bothered. He got a warm ovation when he entered his box and was in his usual cordial mood during the intermission buffet.

Police arrested eight persons, including an Italian Communist youth worker, Gianni Bazzan, who they said threw the paint, and a bearded American tourist, David Blum, 32, of Los Angeles and New York, who they said shouted "Stop bombing Hanoi!" as Bazzan threw the paint.

As Humphrey arrived for the opera, demonstrators also scattered tiny leaflets with the words, "Peace and liberty for Vietnam" in Italian on them. While he was inside, an improvised smoke bomb was thrown from a passing car, and a big North Vietnamese flag was hoisted on a flagpole near the Colosseum.

The incident occurred only a few hours after the vice president arrived from Bonn for talks with Italian leaders about West European unity, U.S.-ITAL-AL relations, the proposed treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons, the Vietnam war and improved East-West relations.

The Rome incident also alerted authorities in Florence against demonstrators. Humphrey goes to Florence by train Saturday afternoon and remains until his departure for London Sunday.

The vice president's schedule today included a meeting with Premier Aldo Moro and Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani and a call on President Giuseppe Saragat.

Sees No Car Racing Danger Point Yet

ATLANTA (AP) — Mario Andretti says he doesn't believe stock car speeds have reached the danger point, and the trim little Pennsylvanian wishes he could travel a little faster between races.

One of Ford's standard bearers in Sunday's Atlanta 500, Andretti also is bidding in the 12-hour endurance test at Sebring, Fla., Saturday.

The Nazareth, Pa., veteran failed to win a spot in the Atlanta field in a Wednesday trial and then flew to Sebring to tune up for that race on Thursday.

Andretti was scheduled to return to Atlanta today for another try at qualifying for the $77,000 race and then go back to Sebring for the Saturday showdown. He plans to fly back early Sunday for the Atlanta 500.

Cale Yarborough of Charlotte, N.C., won the pole spot when he led eight qualifiers Wednesday, and eight more berths were claimed in Thursday's trials.

Leroy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., was knocked out of Thursday's qualifying when his 1967 Dodge, struck a fence, but the car was not seriously damaged and he was expected to bid again today.

Drought in Northeast Has Eased

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
While the six-year long drought conditions in the Northeast have eased considerably, a lack of rainfall is posing a serious threat to farmers in the Midwest.

"Nothing particular to worry about now," says the Boston Weather Bureau.

"I'd go as far as saying the emergency here is gone," says New York City Water Commissioner James Marcus.

The talk is different in the Midwest.

"If it rains on a lawn in Kansas City, wheat drops a nickel," says a farmer. "We've had only a quarter of an inch since last September."

New Yorkers are looking forward to the possible lifting of some drought emergency measures still in effect like not being served a glass of water in the city's restaurants unless you request it.

Farmers in the Midwest are hopefully looking forward to bigger things, like early April rains to improve drought-stunted crops and erase the threat of dust storms and prairie fires.

The Northeast was helped by heavy winter snowfalls, which may have resulted from a shift in the normal pattern of weather coming from Canada and across the United States. The shift in the weather pattern likewise may have been the cause of the Plains states' lack of precipitation.

Meteorologists say cold Canadian air bypassed the Plains states and the Northwest, and instead ran east across the Great Lakes.

New York City reservoirs gained 4.8 billion gallons of water from melting snow and the city's water supply rose to a fraction below the normal level.

Goldberg Denies He'll Seek Office

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's repeated denials have failed to squelch reports that he may run against New York's Republican senator, Jacob Javits, in 1968.

The U.N. delegate's numerous statements have created what one observer called a "credibility gap" because none of them has completely and firmly ruled out the possibility that under some circumstances he would be a candidate.

Goldberg has said that he is not a candidate, that he has no plans to move to Washington, that he has no intention of running for public office, and that his sole ambition is to strengthen the United Nations as an instrument for world peace.

He has never gone so far, however, as to assert that he would not run if nominated and would not serve if elected.

Although Goldberg's name has been advanced by Brooklyn Democratic leader Stanley Steingut, the state nominating convention is still more than a year away and a lot of things could happen between now and then.

Such influential Democratic leaders as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and former Mayor Robert F. Wagner have had little to say about Goldberg so far. Wagner himself has been mentioned frequently as a possible candidate against Javits.

Some observers believe President Johnson eventually will have the deciding voice as to whether Goldberg will run. The senatorial election will coincide with the 1968 presidential contest, and Johnson undoubtedly will want the strongest possible candidate in the senatorial race to help him carry populous New York State.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Drugs Help in Treating Scaly Red Skin Patches

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My doctor says I have lupus erythematosus. What is the cause and what can be done for it?

A—The cause of this disease cannot always be determined, but in many victims the disease is caused by taking certain antibiotics (penicillin, tetracycline, streptomycin or griseofulvin), sulfa drugs, hydralazine, phenylbutazone, procainamide, propylthiouracil and others. The disease is characterized by a scaly red eruption, frequently limited to the cheeks and bridge of the nose (butterfly pattern). Sunlight aggravates the patches.

Although this is a serious disease when it spreads beyond the skin and involves the lymph nodes, joints, lungs, digestive tract, kidneys and nervous system, great strides have been made in its treatment. In the early stages salicylates and antimalarial drugs will control the disease. For acute flare-ups, drugs of the cortisone group are used. Although no cure is known, such drugs as methotrexamine, mercaptopurine and cyclophosphamide have been helpful even in the advanced stages.

Q—I have had recurrent bouts of lupus erythematosus for 30 years. Periodic recurrences have been controlled with injections of gold thio-sulfate. I have had no sympoms for the last seven years. May I assume that I am cured or is the disease likely to recur?

A—It would be unwise to assume that you are cured. Prompt treatment at the first sign of a recurrence will prolong your life.

Q—What is uremia? What causes it? Is there any cure?

A—Uremia is a failure of the kidneys to rid the body of urea and related wastes. As a result, these wastes pile up in the blood. The victim's skin becomes pale and itches. Small hemorrhages may occur under the skin. The breathing is deep and sighing. Nausea, vomiting and diarrhea are common. Muscular twitching and mental depression occur, and finally coma.

Any disease that causes extensive damage to the kidney cells may cause uremia as a terminal manifestation. When the cause is an acute poisoning, treatment with the artificial kidney may allow complete recovery. Modifications of the artificial kidney for use at home at a greatly reduced cost are now available and have given new hope to persons with chronic uremia.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — There must have been considerable confusion and even some snarls behind the cameras caused by the strike of the performers union Wednesday, but little of it showed on the small screens. The three major networks carried on with a minimum of disruptions.

In fact, it was often quite stimulating for the viewer to be suddenly confronted with an assortment of fresh faces reading the news reports in time spots when for months Edwin Newman or Mike Wallace would unfailingly turn up to read the headlines for five minutes between the game shows and soap operas.

The news reports were the major headache. Chet Huntley was the only familiar face to turn up on the evening news reports. But the earnest bespectacled substitutes — all network executives with some broadcasting experience, handled their jobs with poise and clarity.

CBS, caught without actors for two live soap operas, pulled a pair of antique comedy shows from the shelf. As a result a 1956 "I Love Lucy" episode replaced "Love of Life," and a "Candid Camera" episode made in the days when Arthur Godfrey was its host substituted for "As The World Turns."

Today more old shows will be in use during the soap opera emergency. The hour long "Playhouse of Stars" made many seasons back, will replace "Edge of Night" and "Secret Storm." NBC will haul out some shows from the bygone "Loretta Young" series to replace "Another World."

Most of the game and panel shows are taped for a short period ahead.

Evening schedules, even if the strike continues for a long period, will not be disturbed if it is. Most series on all networks are on film and this season's production is completed. Variety shows, like those headed by Jackie Gleason, Ed Sullivan and Red Skelton are still in production but will be using reruns.

The "Today" and "Tonight" shows too will broadcast old shows — which a lot of programs do anyway even when there is no emergency.

TOO MANY CLUBS

Dear Helen: I am a very devoted husband and try to be a good father. I belong to a lot of clubs and am active in all of them. I also belong to the local volunteer fire department and the National Guard. Besides, my job keeps me away a lot.

Every time I start to go to a meeting or a fire, my wife starts mildly fussing. When I get back, she's still fussing. I'm getting tired of this, but I don't know what to do about it. — SIDNEY

Dear Sid: Why not make a list of all your extras, then figure how much "at home" time this leaves you? If you're "out" more than you're "in," your wife has a talking point and perhaps you should become less active in one or two of your less important activities. When a man spreads himself so thin his family snaps, it's time he realized too many clubs can knock the happiness out of marriage. — H.

Dear Helen: I'm engaged to a man, but I'm a little on the "I'm not sure" inside. We argue for stupid reasons, I'll list a few:

He complains because I don't use more make-up, especially lipstick, I prefer the "bare look". Then he doesn't like the way I dress. I have lots of clothes, but he thinks they look cheap. He says I should buy fewer, but more expensive things. He doesn't approve of sneakers or Bermudas. I do, for appropriate occasions like picnics.

He says my legs are too heavy. I don't think so, and, besides what could I do about it? I'm 33-23-34, so next he said, "Exercise to enlarge your bust measurements, you're out of proportion." I wouldn't mind this criticism so much if he looked like Rock Hudson. He doesn't! He's five feet five, very thin, average looking.

Now he tells me I'm a prude because we went to a night club that had a strip tease act and I didn't care for it. He's always known I have high principles — and he admired me for them at first — but now he's constantly saying "I'm not 'broad-minded.'" This leads to his telling friends I'm "immature."

Don't get me wrong, he isn't overaggressive. In fact, he hardly ever kisses me more than once during the evening. But he spends money like it was going out of style.

Please help me make my decision. — TO MARRY HIM OR NOT?

Dear TMMON: You would never have written that letter if you hadn't already made your decision — and I agree. If this little fuss budget wants a wife to meet his every specification, he should have one molded out of plastic! — H.

Dear Helen: The letter signed "Not That Bad" lists the many faults of man for which he allegedly blames women. I could almost believe this woman and her husband are direct soul-descendants of Xanthippe and Socrates.

Xanthippe charged Socrates with neglect, failure to provide for his wife and family, wasting his time at the Academy and on the street corners swapping syllogisms with the boys.

Socrates could think of nothing worse to say about Xanthippe than that she was a woman. Said he: 1. Man's greatest faults are ignorance AND women; 2. The ignorance of man is shown when he is unreasonable; when he cannot refrain from covetousness, and when he is governed by the counsel of a woman! 3. She adorns herself . . . to trap a man. She resembles the fire, the more wood is thrown on it, the more it will burn. 4. Never obey a woman!

Solomon was quite different from good ol' Soc. He had 700 wives and 300 concubines. Only old age changed his habits, but his morality didn't improve. These two are considered the two wisest men in history, but they certainly didn't agree about women — WILLIAM B.

Dear Bill: Does anyone? — H.

Drugs Help in Treating Scaly Red Skin Patches

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My doctor says I have lupus erythematosus. What is the cause and what can be done for it?

A—The cause of this disease cannot always be determined, but in many victims the disease is caused by taking certain antibiotics (penicillin, tetracycline, streptomycin or griseofulvin), sulfa drugs, hydralazine, phenylbutazone, procainamide, propylthiouracil and others. The disease is characterized by a scaly red eruption, frequently limited to the cheeks and bridge of the nose (butterfly pattern). Sunlight aggravates the patches.

Although this is a serious disease when it spreads beyond the skin and involves the lymph nodes, joints, lungs, digestive tract, kidneys and nervous system, great strides have been made in its treatment. In the early stages salicylates and antimalarial drugs will control the disease. For acute flare-ups, drugs of the cortisone group are used. Although no cure is known, such drugs as methotrexamine, mercaptopurine and cyclophosphamide have been helpful even in the advanced stages.

Q—I have had recurrent bouts of lupus erythematosus for 30 years. Periodic recurrences have been controlled with injections of gold thio-sulfate. I have had no symp-

Hawks Lose First Game to 76ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "We lost the game and it makes no difference whether we lost by 50 points or one," surmised player-coach Richie Guerin of the St. Louis Hawks who nearly won after benching himself.

If Guerin stays in Saturday night's game, the San Francisco Warriors had best beware, warned their own coach Bill Sharman.

San Francisco took a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven playoff for the Western crown in the National Basketball Association chase by edging the Hawks 117-115 after building a 22-point lead on Thursday night.

Tonight's eastern division action centers in Philadelphia where the 76ers tangle with the Boston Celtics in another clash between Will Chamberlain and Boston's player-coach Bill Russell, who won't figure on sitting benchwise.

Before a crowd of 7,813 at the Cow Palace, the Warriors jumped into a 40-25 first quarter lead as Rick Barry dumped in 16 points and Nate Thurmond contributed 10.

Guerin played only 12 minutes and explained, "We had to go to a pressing game. We needed quickness to generate our offense."

His Hawks rallied in the fourth stanza twice. Early, they scored 16 points to cut the margin to six points and later they came back to trail by only two with 30 seconds remaining.

Barry, who led the scoring with 38, then drove for a field goal that proved decisive.

Scooter Line Stopped But Result Same

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins finally managed to stop Chicago's famed "scooter line," but the result was the same — another victory for the Black Hawks.

Although Stan Mikita, Ken Wharram and Doug Mohns were shackled for the first time this season by the lowly Bruins, Chicago rallied for a 3-1 victory Thursday night in hiking its record to 40-16-12 with two National Hockey League games left.

"They had a few chances but couldn't put the puck in," Chicago coach Billy Reay said. "However, I'm not worrying about their putting it in now. I'm thinking about them putting it in next week."

With the regular season championship wrapped up long ago, Reay was looking ahead to the Stanley Cup playoffs. The lineup for the playoffs will be determined by the final outcome of a three-way fight for second by Montreal, New York and Toronto.

Mikita, who has games left at Montreal and New York this weekend, failed to add to his 94 points and still needs four to break teammate Bobby Hull's NHL record for a single season. Mikita, Wharram and Mohns had connected for eight goals each in 13 previous outings against Boston this year. However, they were unable to add to the total on 12 shots at the Bruins' net.

Liston Has Started a Comeback

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Sonny Liston has started another comeback that he hopes will earn him a chance to regain the world heavyweight boxing championship.

The former champ, who lost the title to Cassius Clay three years ago, knocked out Dave Bailey of Philadelphia in 2:22 of the first round of their scheduled 10-rounder Thursday night. Liston weighed 221, Bailey 214½.

"It was a perfect short right hook," Liston said. The Las Vegas, Nev., fighter had hoped the fight would last longer since he needed the work.

It was Liston's first fight since he flattened Amos Johnson, another American, in Göteborg last August.

Reflected Glory Gets
Derby Nod

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Reflected Glory, future book favorite for the May 6 running of the Kentucky Derby, puts his glowing record on the line Saturday in the $100,000-added Florida Derby — one of the day's two feature races presenting eligibles for America's most colorful horse race.

The other race for sophomores is the six furlongs of the $25,000-added Pimlico Stakes at Pimlico with two swifties — Disciplinary and Solo Landing — slated to fight it out after trailing the highly regarded Kentucky Derby candidate Damascus in the Bay Shore last Saturday at Aqueduct.

Reflected Glory, trained by Hirsch Jacobs and carrying the silks of the conditioner's wife, Ethel, has won his last three starts with a come-from-far-back stretch run. He started the string with the Bahamas, then captured the Everglades and on March 3 easily won the 1½-mile Flamingo at Hialeah Park. The Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park also will be raced at 1½ miles.

Eleven were named for Florida's final major race for 3-year-olds and, if all start, first place will be worth $99,400. With Patricia Jacobs' Reason to Hall as a running mate, the Jacobs' entry is expected to be the 7-5 choice.

Arrayed against the favored pair will be such top flight 3-year-olds as Mrs. Frances A. Genter's In Reality, winner of the Hibiscus and Fountain of Youth this winter; Wheatley Stable's Great Power; Rock Spring Farm's Tumble Wind, runner-up in the Santa Anita Derby and returning to the state where he was bred and sold for $100,000 as a 2-year-old, and Michael G. Phipps' Gentleman James.

All will carry 122 pounds with Jorge Velasquez riding Reflected Glory, Walter Blum on Reason to Hall, Braulio Baeza astride Great Power, Bill Shoemaker in Tumble Wind's saddle and Earlie Fires aboard In Reality.

Although beaten in the seven-furlong Bay Shore, both Disciplinary, a stablemate of Great Power, and Solo Landing, owned and trained by Guy H. Burt, battled on the front end for the first six furlongs. Disciplinary finished second and Solo Landing, winner of his five previous starts, faded to fourth.

BASEBALL takes precedence now for Ron Reed of the Atlanta Braves. The rookie right-hander has decided to quit professional basketball after playing two years for the Detroit Pistons.

Landry Will Speak at Banquet

The second annual all sports banquet for Hope High School athletes will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 1, in the Third District Livestock Show Coliseum.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Tom Landry coach of the professional Dallas Cowboys team. He replaces Bill Glass who was unable to speak as scheduled.

The serving lines will be open at 6:40 p.m. and the program will follow. Tickets may be purchased at the door at $2 each.

Ryun Plans to Anchor Three Relays

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Jim Ryun, already a legend of track although only a sophomore at Kansas, anchors the first of three relay teams aiming at world records in opening the massive Texas Relays today.

Ryun will not run in the mile, where he holds the world's record of 3:51.3, but will be seen on the spring medley relay team today and on the two-mile and four-mile baton units Saturday.

His first effort is expected to produce a world mark because he will be doing the half-mile steeple in the spring medley. If he can approach his best time of 1:44.9 in the 880, there is little doubt that Kansas will crumble the world standard of 3:15.5.

There will be another world record holder in action today as Randy Matson, the Texas Aggie giant who holds the record of 70 feet 7½ inches in the shotput, tests a hand that kept him out of competition in this event for two weeks.

Matson had reached 68-8 this season, then sprained his hand. Although he has fully recovered, he is not expected to be up to form because of the lack of practice.

He has been throwing the discus despite the sprained hand and hitting 200 feet.

Matson has been working on the weights and is stronger at 262 pounds than ever before, said Texas A&M coach Charley Thomas. "He also has been doing a lot of running and says he is faster going across the ring."

So Matson might give the world record of 213 feet 11½ inches a whirl although few expect him to make it.

Ryun and Matson are the big names of the Texas Relays opening sessions that have a raft of preliminaries during the day and 19 finals tonight. The four-division track and field meet ends Saturday afternoon with 24 finals.

Possibly a dozen and a half Texas Relays records are in the offing but it is world records that intrigue the crowd, especially with the likes of Ryun, Matson and Ralph Boston, the record-holder in the broad jump.

Boston appears in a special event Saturday and will be but one of five fellows who have leaped over 26 feet this year. His world's record is 27 feet 4¼ inches.

The Texas Relays' long anticipated four-minute mile might become a reality Saturday despite the absence of Ryun from his favorite event, Richard Romo, former Texas star, is going after it and he has done 3:58.8. The record for the mile here is 4:00.5, set in 1955 by Wes Santee of Kansas.

"I'm not worried about him," said Cokes, making his debut in the Garden. "He's a kid but he can be fought. And he can be handled. I'll handle him."

It will be the first appearance in New York for Harris, a squat, 5-foot-3½ buzzsaw puncher who has become a red hot attraction in his native Philadelphia.

"After I whip Cokes, I'll be just as hot in New York," said Harris, a 10th grade, school dropout who has been getting nothing but straight A's in his ring tests. He has won all 16 of his pro fights, eight by knockouts, in 28 months of pro battling.

Cokes, 29, stands 5-foot-9 and is rated a boxer-puncher. In nine years he has posted 65-8-3 won-lost-draw record, including 20 knockouts. He has been stopped once. He has an unbeaten string of nine over two years.

Johnny Pott in Lead at Greensboro

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — You have to drop all the way down to 53rd place in the latest money list to find the name of Johnny Pott, the leader going into today's second round of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

The 31-year-old, one-time No. 1 player on the Louisiana State golf team shot his best round of the year Thursday, a six-under-par 65.

It gave him a two-stroke lead over defending champion Doug Sanders and Californians George Archer and Dave Stockton in the $25,000 tournament, which has a $25,000 first prize.

Pott has won four tour events since turning professional in 1956, but none since 1963.

Last year he won nothing but money—$47,000—to rank 18th. In a five-week stretch last spring he pocketed more than $25,000 with finishes ranging from second to seventh.

But this year he has won only $3,700 in official money, with a 10th place tie his best finish.

Pott's opening round over the 7,000-yard, par 71 Sedgfield Country Club course produced six birdies, the longest from 20 feet, and 12 pars. He played the par 36-35 course in 32-33 and was one shot off the course record.

Archer, a lanky 6-foot-6 professional of four years, has more than the Greensboro tournament on his mind. He wants to earn a spot in the Masters with a good showing here. Two more places are available for the Augusta, Ga., classic, and Archer leads the point race which will determine them.

Chi Chi Rodriguez, the 116-pound Puerto Rican who has had a variety of ailments in the last year, came up with a 68 to tie South Africa's Gary Player for fifth place.

All told, 30 men broke par and 15 equalled it under ideal weather conditions. Skies were clear and temperatures were in the high 60s.

There were eight 69 shooters, including Julius Boros and Arnold Palmer, the only double winners on the tour this year and the leading money winning pair in that order.

Among the 16 men who shot 70 was 54-year-old Sam Snead, who won here for the eighth time two years ago.

All America Cage Game Saturday

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The West is tall and the East is all, All-America that is, and the twin shall meet Saturday afternoon in the fifth annual All-Star basketball game in Lexington.

The West has a 10-man squad which averages 1½ inches in height advantage over the favored East which has six players from the first or second All-America teams this season.

West coach Everett Shelton of Sacramento State said "This is going to give my youngsters a chance to prove these pickers (of All-Americans) are wrong."

Shelton will pit Western giants such as 6-foot-11 Craig Raymond of Brigham Young and 6-foot-9 Mel Daniels of New Mexico against an East team averaging 6-foot-3½.

But the East sports an overall scoring average of slightly more than 22 points per game per player.

The East scorers include Bob Lloyd of Rutgers with a 27.2 average, Bob Verga of Duke at 26.0 and Ron Widby of Tennessee and Sonny Dove of St. John's with 22.3 each. Lloyd, Verga and Widby are second team All-Americans. They'll be joined by Louie Dampier of Kentucky.

Jimmy Walker of Providence, playing for the East, will be the only first team All-America in the game.

The annual game is sponsored by the National Association of Basketball Coaches and will be televised nationally.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Husky fullback Les Kelley, the No. 1 draft pick of the New Orleans Saints signed a contract Thursday with the National Football League club for an undeclared amount.

Injuries Cropping Up in Baseball

By RON RAPOPORO
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Senators have a sprained ankle, the Orioles have water on a $100,000 knee and the Yankees have a hamstring and some shin splints on the mend.

But the Dodgers, with a broken ankle and a stomach ache that might be an ulcer, are winning exhibition baseball's medical sweepstakes.

Los Angeles sent centerfielder Willie Davis back home Thursday after what had looked like a sprain turned out to be a broken bone in Davis' left ankle.

Davis will miss the Dodgers' opener April 10 and could be out even longer. Accompanying him to Los Angeles was outfielder Lou Johnson who had been in a Florida hospital with stomach pains that just might be an ulcer.

Elsewhere on the injury front Thursday, Paul Casanova, the Senator's catcher, sprained an ankle in a game against the Yankees and will be out for a few days, and Baltimore's Frank Robinson, had some fluid drained from his knee and played his first complete game of the spring.

And Mickey Mantle, out for 10 days with a pulled hamstring, returned to the Yankee lineup as did Joe Pepitone, who had been out for a few days with shin splints.

Biggest news on the playing field was Juan Marichal's first outing with San Francisco since ending his holdout. Marichal went four innings and gave up just three hits as the Giants beat California 7-5. Jim Davenport had a three-run double for the Giants.

Lee Stange and Hank Fischer blanked the Orioles on three hits as Boston won 1-0. Tony Conigliaro doubled in the winning run.

Milt Pappas also turned in a strong pitching performance, allowing just three hits in eight innings and leading Cincinnati to a 3-1 triumph over the Dodgers.

More good pitching came from Dick Hughes of St. Louis, who set down the New York Mets on one hit through five innings. The Cardinals scored six times in the first inning to win 8-3.

John Odum went five innings for Kansas City and gave up just three hits as the Athletics beat Houston 3-2.

Jim Northrup drove in two runs with a single in the ninth, giving Detroit a 2-1 triumph over Philadelphia.

The Chicago Cubs mounted a 14-hit attack and crushed Cleveland 6-2 behind Ken Holtzman who went six innings and gave up five hits.

Pittsburgh also got plenty of hitting, three hits each from Donn Clendenon, Manny Mota and Bill Mazeroski, and bounced Washington 11-4.

Harmon Killebrew homered for Minnesota, his sixth of the spring, as the Twins edged the New York Yankees 4-3.

Bulls Seeing Red But Also Happiness

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bulls saw "red," but happily, in their National Basketball Association debut season.

First off, John (Red) Kerr, the 6-foot 9 playing veteran of 12 pro seasons, Thursday was named NBA Coach of the Year for directing the makeshift Bulls to a 33-48 record.

Also, even though the Bulls took about a $50,000 bath in red ink, it was far less than the $200,000 — $250,000 operational loss General Manager Dick Klein expected in returning the game to a city known as the graveyard of pro basketball.

"If we had been able to play three more playoff games, we'd have broken even," said Klein. The Bulls set precedent as an expansion club by gaining the playoffs in the 10-club circuit, but were bounced out in three straight by the St. Louis Hawks.

Kerr's feat in astounding experts who predicted the Bulls — culled from castoffs of the other nine clubs — would be lucky to win 20 games, made him a solid choice for Coach of the Year honor in an NBA poll of 30 writers covering the league.

Kerr, who this week turned down the basketball coaching job at his alma mater, Illinois, captured 17 votes. Next with 11 was Kerr's coach on the former Syracuse Nats, Alex Hannum of the Philadelphia 76ers, whose 68 victories set an NBA record this year.

Third balloting choice with 2 was Bill Sharman of the revived San Francisco Warriors.

COLLECTING RAINWATER runoff from roofs to help alleviate possible future water shortages may be possible by painting roofs with a new liquid silicon rubber that hardens after application. An important characteristic of the substance, developed by General Electric, is its ability to maintain basic characteristics without melting under high temperatures or becoming brittle in extreme cold.

Follow the rules in learning a new sport. Others resent a maverick.

Trucks mounted on rail wheels pulled supplies, since most locomotives have been destroyed or isolated by bombing. Also indicative of careful planning in supply movement was first appearance of Soviet-built tracked vehicles, at left.

event. In this extreme case you open the king because once in awhile someone will hold the singleton queen.

West passes the one club opening to see what will happen. He doesn't worry about the possibility of everyone passing because in that case he expects to set the one club contract. He is rather surprised when South rebids no-trump but he waits patiently to hear more bidding.

Every book on the play of the cards has a table of standard opening leads from various high card combinations. Every bridge player should know these standard tables and follow them most of the time but no bridge player should follow them blindly. Thus, the standard lead from king-jack-ten-nine is the jack. The reason is that if your partner shows up with the ace you can pick the queen in declarer's hand, while if your partner does not show up with the ace you break even. This is all very good but there is one time when the expert should lead the king. This is when it is obvious that your partner can't have the ace and when you are going to lead the suit in any event. In this extreme case you open the king because once in awhile someone will hold the singleton queen. West passes the one club opening to see what will happen. He doesn't worry about the possibility of everyone passing because in that case he expects to set the one club contract. He is rather surprised when South rebids two no-trump but he waits patiently to hear more bidding. Needless to say he is disappointed to have to defend against an undoubted two no-trump but he realizes that his partner almost surely has a blank hand and that North and South can probably do pretty well in hearts. If West is an alert player he will realize that he will take any tricks his side takes. Then West will open the king of clubs. This will turn out to be a very successful lead. He will pick up the singleton queen of clubs and will make four club tricks and his three aces. Started Tower Building of the Tower of London was begun during the reign of William the Conqueror, in 1078. The historic building has served as prison and palace, royal zoo and treasury in the past 890 years.

earlier in March that hiring newsmen under 14 was a violation of the child labor law.

The House also concurred in an amendment to give the lieutenant governor a $1,800-a-year "public relations" expense account. Other constitutional officers except the governor will receive $3,000 under the appropriation measures.

Time representatives, however, refused to consider a bill by Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage establishing a civil service system and a Senate measure calling for a milk price investigation.

They passed a bill making insurance rate filings open to the public at the time of filing and appropriated $41,150 to hire 27 wardens and five matrons for the state penitentiary. They also approved a measure making wiretapping a felony.

In other action, the House:

— Passed a bill making members of the legislature non voting ex-officio members of state boards and commissions and authorizing per diem expenses to attend meetings.

— Passed a bill allowing practical pharmacists with 20 years of experience to be licensed as registered pharmacists if they pass the same examination as registered pharmacists.

— Passed a bill making insurance rate filings open to the public at the time of filing.

— Concurred in an amendment to give the lieutenant governor an $1,800-a-year "public relations" expense account. Other constitutional officers except the governor will receive $3,000 a year.

— Passed bills strengthening laws against the smuggling of weapons and drugs into the penitentiary, prohibiting the selling of prison jobs, authorizing manufacturing at the prison and allowing the penitentiary board to prescribe the maximum amount of money a prisoner can have in his possession.

— Passed a bill appropriating $41,150 to hire 27 wardens and five matrons for the penitentiary.

— Refused to expunge the record by which the House failed to override Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's veto of a bill prohibiting the removal of gravel from sections of the White River.

— Passed a bill permitting counties and cities to use vehicle tax revenues to provide ambulance services.

— Approved a measure making wiretapping a felony.

— Refused to consider a bill by Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage establishing a civil service system and a measure calling for a milk price investigation.

Denies Shortage in Shipping

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee's assertion that a shipping shortage endangers U.S. ability to supply troops in Vietnam has drawn a prompt Pentagon denial.

The Defense Department, responding to a report by the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee, said "potentially available U.S.-owned seafight resources could support an operation 2½ times the size of Vietnam today."

Research Into Rabies Virus Develops Pain Eliminating Vaccine

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Research into the rabies virus has reached the testing stage in the efforts to develop a safe vaccine that will eliminate the agonizing question faced by a New York father — and thousands of other parents every year.

Indications are that an improved vaccine will be available in two or three years, perhaps sooner.

The shortcomings of vaccines now used were dramatized in the case of 8-year-old Michael LeBrun of Speonk, N.Y. When the boy was bitten by dogs four weeks ago, his father, Charles LeBrun, faced the choice of a series of painful injections, with a possible serious side effect, for his son, or the boy's almost certain death if rabies had been contracted.

LeBrun decided against the treatment — which is not always effective — since there was no indication the dogs that attacked Michael had rabies.

The father learned Thursday he may have won the gamble. Michael's doctor pronounced him "in excellent condition."

The boy will be examined again in two weeks, LeBrun said, because the usual incubation period for the disease is four to six weeks.

Thousands of Americans in similar situations take the vaccine shots every year, although many others do not — in the absence of evidence that animals involved had rabies.

In one human death officially attributed to rabies in the United States last year came after 21 injections of an antirabies vaccine. The victim, a South Dakota boy, was bitten by a skunk while camping out in a backyard sleeping bag.

With a rising incidence in wildlife rabies — especially among skunks — and increasing outdoor activities by Americans, a researcher for the federal health service's communicable disease center in Atlanta has forecast greater rabies threat to humans.

The scientist, Dr. R.E. Dierks, predicts that a better vaccine will be on the market in two or three years. He is working in vaccine research at the center's rabies control laboratory at nearby Lawrenceville.

However, a private institute in Philadelphia already is preparing for vaccine tests with humans, the final testing step. Another vaccine research project is under way in a Canadian laboratory.

Gov. Lurleen Wallace confronted U.S. authorities today with threatened defiance of a new school integration order and the vow, "Whatever need be done will be done."

She urged a cheering Alabama Legislature to hand down a "cease and desist" ultimatum to a three-judge federal court which said nine days ago all public schools in the state, including their faculties, must be desegregated by next September.

She told the House and Senate it may be necessary to employ more state troopers "in order that the children of our state be protected." She asked legislators to consider appropriating funds to pay additional state police.

She was interrupted by applause 20 times during her 30-minute speech in the House chamber where 106 years ago Alabama seceded from the Union at the outset of the Civil War.

Mrs. Wallace solicited the support of other Southern states in resisting the desegregation order, but promised, "If we stand alone, we will go alone."

Alabama is appealing the order to the Supreme Court.

There was little indication of opposition from the legislators.

Says Manchester Highly Inaccurate

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore C. Sorensen, former adviser to President John F. Kennedy, says author William Manchester made a "highly inaccurate reference" to him in an article in Look magazine.

Sorensen told a news conference Thursday that there was "not an ounce of truth" in Manchester's report that Sorensen had allowed his book, "Kennedy," to be censored.

"I didn't give way, I didn't yield principle," Sorensen said. "There was no censorship. The thing is of whole cloth."

1936 Arkansas Centennial Edition to Be Re-Issued in Offset Process

Hope Star's Arkansas Centennial Edition of June 26, 1936 — declared by the head librarian of the Alamo to be the best Centennial Edition issued by any newspaper either in Arkansas or Texas that year — is still cherished by historians and the public, but the edition has been out of print for 30 years.

Now the miracle of Offset Printing permits us to reproduce it at a microscopic fraction of its original cost which was $1,700.

The Star's editor conceived the idea of photographing the old paper and including it in the daily Star one page at a time until all 48 pages had been reprinted. Mechanical Superintendent Billy Dan Jones improved on the idea — photograph the front and back side of each page and insert it two pages at a time in our daily run. That's what we are going to do.

So all you have to do as a Hope Star subscriber is to save the 24 2-page inserts over the next few months, staple them together — and you'll have the reconstructed Arkansas Centennial Edition of 48 pages without any cost other than your regular subscription.

As late as 15 months ago this would have been impossible without resetting the entire Centennial in type and re-engraving all its picture, which if it cost $1,700 back in 1936, would run $4,000 or $5,000 today.

But with the Offset Process all we have to do is photograph the old paper with our giant process camera, make a press plate for the extra two pages, and include them in our daily run.

Look for this miracle in the months to come!

Red Carpet Treatment in Little Rock

If I feel bewildered today I hope it doesn't show in this column. Yesterday Pod Rogers, the Star's red-headed circulation manager, and your editor spent an unusual afternoon at the state capitol in Little Rock where I was scheduled for a 5-minute talk to each of the legislative chambers.

I got a laugh out of the Senate when I told them that a newspaperman talking to the lawmakers was not unkind of the irony of the situation — the normal condition being that the lawmakers are talking and a newspaperman listening!

But this wasn't governmental — rather a tribute to the advancement of science and industry and prosperity in Arkansas. It was the aftermath of Concurrent Resolution No. 32 which the 66th General Assembly adopted Feb. 9. In that resolution the General Assembly congratulated The Star and your editor for introducing in this state the first 8x10-inch Berkey color separator sold to an American newspaper, for pioneering the printing of process color pictures in newspapers, and for the publicity this has given Arkansas throughout the graphic arts world.

The legislature in its resolution invited me to photograph the Senate and House chambers and membership in color, and I did this Feb. 27 and March 8. Last Wednesday we printed these pictures in a special edition, Color Salute to the 66th General Assembly, and Thursday afternoon Pod Rogers and I distributed 500 copies to the membership of each chamber.

I could have wished for a better reproduction of the pictures in the paper, but a technical error prevented this. And so I "covered" our shortcoming by presenting each chamber with a 16x20 laboratory color print for framing. Relatively few people have seen a 16x20 full-color print — it's a magnificent thing, and the lawmakers expressed delight. I told the Senators and Representatives that the Berkey machine has the potential of duplicating this performance in a newspaper — and while we weren't quite up to the job this time we'll get there eventually.

I have a lot of people to thank for Hope's recognition in all this:

The Assembly Edition looked good 125 miles from home, thanks to the 20 pages made possible by the advertising of local business and industry.

Rep. Talbot Feld, Jr., of Hope arranged for our appearance in the House chamber, and Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, another Hope man, had his staff cameraman photograph me giving the 16x20 House picture to Speaker Sterling R. Cockrill, Jr., and Rep. Feld.

In the Senate chamber we were the guests of Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, and there was another picture as I turned over the Senate portrait to Lt. Gov. Footsie Fritt, the Senate president, and Senator Hendrix.

It was an afternoon that made a full day — a wonderful one.

Senate Relents on Key Bill, Legislature Adjourns Friday Noon

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Senate relented Thursday and prepared the way for sine die adjournment of the legislature at noon today by passing an unamended revenue stabilization bill.

The bill, the House version, swept through the Senate 29-3, removing fears that the legislature would become deadlocked on a stabilization bill, the most important piece of legislation to be considered since it allocates the state's revenues for the next biennium.

Earlier in the week, the Senate indicated it might resist Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's plea that the legislature approve a bill in a form desired by him. It amended its own version to guarantee the promised $500-a-year raises to teachers and to increase the likelihood that the cities would receive more turnback revenues.

The House beat down attempts Wednesday to open its version for amendment. The Senate did the same Thursday, repelling amendments offered by Sens. Clarence Bell of Parkin and Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff.

Rockefeller awaited the outcome of the Senate vote outside the chamber. "This is my second happiest day of the session," he said after it was over, saying his happiest was Wednesday when the House passed his Department of Administration bill.

The governor thanked the senators for their support. The Senate set up sine die adjournment today by concurring in a resolution the House approved Wednesday. Today is the sixth legislative day of an extension of the regular 60-day session.

Meanwhile, the House passed the administration's bill setting a minimum wage of $1 an hour 82-2, but the vote was considered only a gesture since the measure had little chance of passage in the Senate.

"It would have had a much rougher time earlier in the session," said Rep. Talbot Feld Jr. of Hope.

Several important pieces of legislation remained in the House and Senate.

The Senate refused to concur in a House amendment to a bill appropriating funds for State Police operations and the House refused to recede. The State Police would wind up without its $7.8 million appropriation if neither house backed off from its position.

Senators who want to amend the bill to abolish the Criminal Investigation Division of the State Police blocked concurrence in the House amendment.

The House failed three times to suspend the rules and consider the Senate highway beautification act to regulate outdoor advertising and junkyards along primary highways. Rep. Doug Brandon of Little Rock said Arkansas would lose $8 million in federal funds if it doesn't enact a beautification bill before Jan. 1.

The representatives also failed to pass an appropriation of $46,475 in the first year of the biennium and $285,969 the second year to fund the compulsory motor vehicle inspection bill already passed by the legislature.

The bill had appeared to pass 76-12, but, in a recheck of the ballot requested by Rep. Benjie yburn of Monticello, three favorable votes were challenged successfully and the bill was short of the required 75 needed for passage. The vote was expunged, however, so the bill could be brought up again.

The House passed 96-0 a Senate bill allowing children under 14 to carry newspapers. The bill was sent back to the Senate, however, for concurrence in an amendment allowing newspapers to give independent contracts to newsboys under 14 as well as employ them.

Live Shows Out, Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more well-known National Broadcasting Co. newscasters, Ray Scherer and Morgan Beaty, have joined Chet Huntley and Frank McGee in going on the air despite a strike by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

But in Washington, State Department sources said Secretary of State Dean Rusk will not appear on NBC's international "Meet the Press" program Sunday if the strike by the 18,000-member union is still on against the major TV and radio networks.

Negotiators for the networks and the union have been summoned to Washington Saturday for talks in the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service offices in efforts to settle the walkout, now in its third day. Talks broke off Tuesday night, and the union struck NBC, CBS, ABC and the Mutual Broadcasting System Wednesday morning.

The strike is over wages and commercial fees. It was called in behalf of about 100 local on the air newsmen at network-owned stations in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. Their salaries exceed $11,000 a year. Most network stars, some of whose salaries range upward to the $100,000 level, supported the strike as members of AFTRA even though network newscasters had reached an agreement last January.

Programming continued with a minimum of disruption Thursday. Reruns of comedies replaced soap operas. Most of the game and panel shows are taped and were not affected. When their backlog runs out, repeat shows will be presented.

Live entertainment programs, such as the Ed Sullivan Show of Sunday night, will not be presented unless the strike is settled. Repeats have been scheduled.

No Word From Son in Week

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Buel C. Wortham said Thursday night that she hasn't heard from her son, who was recently released by the Soviet Union, in more than a week.

Mrs. Wortham said her son, Buel, had telephoned her from Vienna, Austria, a week ago Tuesday and said he would be home in about seven days.

"I'm not worried," Mrs. Wortham said, "but naturally I'm anxious for him to come home."

Wortham, a former Army officer, was convicted of stealing the statue of a bear and making illegal currency exchange at Leningrad. He received a three-year labor camp sentence, which later was reduced to a $5,555 fine.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — A nationwide railroad strike is still set for 12:01 a.m. local time Saturday. The head of the Order of Railroad Conductors and Brakemen — ORCB — declared today.

President Clyde F. Lane denied reports that the walkout of some 18,500 union members had been called off.

The strike would tie up about 65 per cent of the country's railroads. Rail officials have threatened a court action to halt the walkout.

Requests an Apology From WR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. John Miller of Melbourne broke into tears Thursday while making a speech on the floor of the Arkansas House in which he requested an apology from Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Miller said the governor made a remark that reflected on his mother and the mothers of the rest of the legislators. Miller refused to say the word he said the governor had called the legislators. "It really disturbs me when the chief of our state calls me something that reflects on my mother," Miller said, crying.

Rep. Leon Holsted of North Little Rock told a newsmen Rockefeller made the remark in front of him, Storm Whaley, vice president of the health services for the University of Arkansas, and two other officials of the university.

When asked if the governor made the remark in jest, Holsted said, "How do you tell what a man says? I think he was angry when he said it." Rockefeller said at a news conference that he thought he was entitled to make a jestful comment in the privacy of his office.

Local Bank Supports 4-H Club Work

Arkansas bankers have contributed almost $2,900 to the State and National 4-H Club Foundations, reports Calvin J. Caldwell, County Extension Agent. The Citizens National Bank of Hope has joined with 123 banks throughout Arkansas in support of 4-H Club work on the State and National levels, Mr. Caldwell says.

The money contributed is shared by the Arkansas and National 4-H Club Foundations. The state's share will be used for expenses of three International Farm Youth Exchange delegates and for 35 of the 105 delegates to National 4-H Citizenship Short Course in Washington, D. C.

Since its beginning, Arkansas has sent 37 outstanding former 4-H Club members abroad on the International Farm Youth Exchange program. In exchange, 92 young folks from other countries have visited in Arkansas homes. Arkansas will send two former 4-H Club members abroad this year and will receive two in exchange.

A total of 176 members have attended the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course the past four years. Of the 105 to attend this year, the Bankers funds will provide transportation and insurance for 35 club members.

Appreciation for the banks' support has been expressed in a note to R. M. LaGrone, Jr., President of Joseph C. Welman Bank, Newport, is serving as the statewide bank chairman for both the National and Arkansas 4-H Club Foundation.

U.S. Combat Deaths 66 Per Cent Above Last Year's Losses

Steel Plant Blasted by U.S. Bombs

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force jet pilots led by a World War II ace blew out the vital blast furnaces of North Vietnam's showpiece Thai Nguyen steel plant 57 miles north of Hanoi Thursday, the U.S. Command announced.

Col. Robin Olds of Washington, D.C., who downed 24 enemy planes in World War II and a MIG21 in the biggest air battle of the Vietnam war, led the strike of Phantom jets which came in low and "walked their bombs across the target," a spokesman said.

It was the seventh strike against the steel plant since it was put on the target list three weeks ago. Bad weather has hampered all the strikes, and the Air Force enthusiastically hailed the latest for "destroying the blast furnaces."

Olds, 44, husband of former movie star Ella Raines, reported that Thai Nguyen was "engulfed in smoke and dust" from his flight's thousand-pound bombs.

But the U.S. Command also had some bad news to report, announcing that a U.S. Marine jet pilot fired rockets by mistake into his own ground troops Thursday, killing four Marines and wounding 18 more.

The headquarters said the Marine F8 Crusader was supporting a Marine unit in an operation 25 miles southeast of coastal Quang Ngai City and its rockets landed short of the target.

The announcement said an investigation was being made. Sharp but small-scale and scattered ground fighting was reported in the war in the south, with 14 other Americans reported killed and 49 wounded Thursday. The same actions cost the Communists 88 known dead.

Nineteen of the American wounded were 1st Division infantrymen hit by a Red mortar attack in Communist war zone C northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border. Operation Junction City, the biggest U.S. sweep of the war, is continuing there.

The U.S. spokesman said a battalion of U.S. infantrymen in Junction City ran into a Communist force of unknown size today and fighting was continuing at last report. The Saigon headquarters had no details.

U.S. pilots flew 95 missions against North Vietnam Thursday, striking at communication targets in addition to the steel plant.

During an attack on a truck convoy southwest of Hanoi, Air Force pilots sighted two MIG21 interceptors but they turned away without giving battle. No U.S. planes were reported lost during the raids.

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The new savagery of the Vietnam war has propelled U.S. combat deaths to levels 66 per cent above last year's average weekly losses. Communist fatalities are reported up 80 per cent.

A study of Pentagon figures shows American deaths so far this year are averaging 160 a week, compared with 96 in 1966. Enemy dead the first 12 weeks of 1967 has averaged about 1,800, compared with about 1,000 last year.

Communist forces are suffering even greater casualties in proportion to their strength.

The military estimates the Communists have sustained 33,000 wounded in addition to 22,000 dead thus far this year.

Military spokesmen admit the count of enemy dead is far from precise, and at best a haphazard and sometimes extrapolated estimate of bodies found on the battlefield. The wounded count is pure guesswork. Nevertheless, officials believe the rough tally is useful in assessing the impact of the war on the enemy's force levels.

The toll of 55,000 amounts to nearly 20 per cent of the enemy's 1967 average strength of 281,000.

By contrast the over-all U.S. casualties the first quarter of this year — 14,100 including 1,916 killed and 12,184 wounded — represent 3.5 per cent of the 1967 average strength, 404,000.

If U.S. casualties continued at the same rate in relation to troop strength for the remainder of 1967, they would total for the year about 15.2 per cent of average strength.

Last year's 35,000 casualties represented about 12.7 per cent of the average U.S. troop strength during 1966.

Recorder May Give Clue to Plane Crash

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The recovery of a Delta jetliner's flight and voice recorders may provide clues to the cause of the crash that killed 18 persons.

The recorders were found at the scene of the crash Thursday and sent to Washington for examination.

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators continued probing today through bits of the airliner that crashed into a motel filled with school children.

Both recorders showed fire damage, but a CAB spokesman said they appeared to be in good shape.

A flight recorder transcribes such things as altitude, rate of speed, ascent, descent and direction. A voice recorder records all conversations in the cockpit.

Five pilots and an inspector for the Federal Aviation Agency died aboard the four-engine Delta Air Lines jet as it cartwheeled flaming into the Hilton Inn motel. Twelve persons perished in the path of the plane.

U.S., Cong Locked in Big Battle

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — American and Viet Cong forces were locked in furious battle late today for a major Communist base in the jungle of War Zone C near the Cambodian border. One U.S. helicopter was shot down by Red gunners and U.S. ground casualties were termed significant.

In the air war, the U.S. Command announced that Air Force jets led by a World War II ace, blew out the blast furnaces of North Vietnam's showpiece Thai Nguyen steel plant 37 miles north of Hanoi Thursday.

More than 2,000 men of the U.S. 1st Infantry division were battling troops of the Viet Cong's 271st regiment in the Zone C jungle northeast of Tay Ninh City. Late today the Americans were reported stalled some 300 yards from the embattled Communist camp, which was being battered by air strikes and artillery fire.

The Viet Cong replied with mortar barrages into the American positions. Helicopters braves heavy Red fire to bring in reinforcements and haul out the dead and wounded Americans.

The battle developed from a Viet Cong attack on a 1st Division reconnaissance platoon of about 50 men that was badly hurt. A company was sent to relieve it and was pinned down for about three hours before air strikes and artillery lifted the pressure.

U.S. officers said the air strikes ripped open the jungle roof and uncovered what was evidently a major Communist camp, with log bunkers and a tangle of entrenchments.

The raid on North Vietnam's Thai Nguyen steel plant was led by Col. Robin Olds of Washington, D.C., who downed 24 enemy planes in World War II and a MIG 21 nearly three months ago in the biggest air battle of the Vietnam war.

The flight of Phantom jets came in low and "walked their bombs across the target," a spokesman said.

British Write Off Torrey Canyon Affair

By RODNEY PINDER
LONDON (AP) — Britain wrote the Torrey Canyon off as scrap iron today. The government turned its attention to the battle to drive the supertanker's oil from England's southern beaches and a campaign for international legal action to deal with repetitions of the disaster.

With all the oil apparently out of the wreck, the admiralty said there would be no further bombing of the wreckage on The Seven Stones Reef off the southwest tip of England. Nor will divers be sent down to inspect the oil tanks.

An official statement said Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government has asked for an early meeting of the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization. The government said it was preparing proposals for action when a ship sinks outside territorial waters but threatens a country's interests.

The chief target will be the big tanker fleets sailing under "flags of convenience," usually Liberia's or Panama's, to escape taxes and union wages. The Torrey Canyon, although owned by the Union Oil Co. of California, was registered in Liberia.

Banks Man Is Fatally Shot

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — James H. Maoney, 39, of near Banks was fatally shot in his bed early Thursday with a .22 caliber rifle, Bradley County Coroner John Frazer said.

Maoney was shot with a rifle taken from his truck, officers said. Police said Maoney's daughter, Glenda, 5, awoke when she heard the shot and told officers she saw a man go past her bed. She said she got up, turned on the lights and found her father dead.
